Smyrna Police Lt. Curtis Cook

March 28, 1944 - August 30, 2006

By Harold Smith, Editor

Curtis Cook joined the Smyrna Historical and Genealogical Society in February, 1993. He was a frequent visitor to the original Smyrna Museum on King Street that opened April 25, 1992. He immediately became interested in checking into his home town's history. He was fascinated by some of the things he learned about his town as he looked through the old bound volumes of the Smyrna Herald newspaper, scrap books from various clubs and the other photos and documents which made up the museum collection at the time.

But even before joining the Smyrna Historical Society, as a Smyrna Policeman, Curtis has been interested in the history of the old west and some of the law enforcement people of fact and fiction.

This interest led him to joining a company of western re-enactors who toured the country recreating shows like Shootout at the OK Corral and others

His favorite characters were Wyatt Earp and John Henry "Doc" Holliday. Curtis, like Earp, was a quick draw artist.

Continued Curtis Cook. But back to the story of Curtis joining the Smyrna Historical Society. My wife, Betty, had been the research editor of the Visiting The Past column since Lives and Times was started back in the mid 1980's. Shortly after Curtis joined, he was interested in learning how the material for the column was gathered. Betty was eager to have some help with the time consuming research and invited Curtis to go to the Georgia Room at the main Cobb County library to see how the items for column were gleaned from the microfilm library of old newspapers.

This was also about the time that Betty started having some health problems that eventually led to her death just a few months later.

Betty invited Curtis to go to the library with her to do the research and they shared the by-line for the May-June, 1993 issue. That was the last one Betty was ever able to do. She became seriously ill in the latter part of June and never recovered from the surgery that led to her death on September 20, 1993

Curtis researched and did the text for the July-August 1993 issue of Lives and Times and continued the column, with help sometimes from Susan Baugh, and Dianne Mills, until he had a major stroke at the age of 58. The stroke left him paralyzed on the left side and a speech impediment that extensive physical and speech therapy never healed.

Curtis was able to return to his home for a while but eventually he went into Nurse Care of Buckhead, an assisted living home, for three years. A short time before he died, he was a resident of Haven House Hospice in Sandy Springs where he died August 30, 2006.

He lived in Smyrna all his life. He graduated from public schools and his employment had been with the Smyrna Police Department for 35 years before he retired on disability after his stroke.

His parents were Jessie and Ruby Hollifield Cook, who preceded him in death as did two of his brothers, Jimmy and Richard. Curtis is survived by one brother, Charles, who lives with his wife Patsy in Ellijay, two sisters-in-law, Dot Cook of Smyrna and Earline Cook of Austell. We extend our sympathy to the family.

Funeral services were held at the Castellaw Funeral Home Friday, September 1 and burial was at the Cheatham Hill Memorial Park.

Curtis was a good friend, a tireless worker, and his knowledge of local history and his personal contribution of photos, documents, and other memorabilia etc. to the Smyrna museum has added greatly to collection. He will be greatly missed

Curtis loved to write and tell stories. Here's one of the poems he composed:

The Poets Apple

While strolling thru the orchard on a summer afternoon
communing with nature
our harmony in tune.
I spied a wondrous apple hanging from the tree and I knew that I must have it for it looked so good to me.
So I climbed upon the fence and I plucked it from the limb.
And I marveled at its luster shining like a ruby gem.
My mouth began to water,
so inviting did it look.
And I was filled with such emotion
That my fingers fairly shook!.
So I bit into the flesh,
So juicy and so firm
And OH! It was DELECIOUS!!
'Till I spied that half 'a worm.

Thank you Lt. Cook and Rest In Peace

Congratulations To

New Historical Society Members,
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Switzer who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a trip to the Canadian Rockies.

They were married August 18,
1956 in McKinney, Texas.

Charles is retired from Lockheed and Margie is retired from Cobb County Schools. They are members of The Log Cabin Community Sunday School and Peachtree Christian Church.

The Paper Boy

The paper boy, in this case, is no other than Charles "Pete" Wood, long time City Councilman of Smyrna's Ward 7 and a life-long resident, except for the time he spent in the active military.

Pete and his wife Lillie and a number of other people who have helped Collect memories, check facts and figures, edit, and the like have written a book. What started out as a collection of Pete's memories of his childhood and young adult days actually turned into a book containing more than 700 pages. It has some historical facts, personal memories and vintage photos as well as stories of several generations of Smyrna families.

The Paper Boy - A Collection of Memories of Smyrna, Georgia is a Smyth sewn hardback book that will be ready for a book-signing at the Smyrna
Library in the community meeting room
October 21st from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM.

Many people have pre-ordered the book, but in case you didn't have that opportunity you might still be able to get in on the early delivery date by calling Pete or Lillie at 770 435 1439.

Historical Society Web Site SmyrnaHistory.Org

The Historical Society's new web site has created a lot of interest and inquiries have increased considerably.
Jeff Jones, the new webmaster keeps adding features and one of the latest is a language translator. If you want to read the Lives and Times or any of the other text on the site, all you have to do is click on a picture of the flag of any of the countries that have the following languages. Spanish, Portuguese, French, Italian, German, Russian, Chinese,
Japanese and Korean.

Try it out, I did, and I found that I really didn't retain much of my 4 quarters of Spanish at Georgia State.

We thank these members for their renewals in the last couple of months. We especially thank Ginger Ventre, our billing volunteer in Oakton, VA for her excellent timely billing procedures which insures that all our members receive an invoice near their anniversary dates. This practice has increased timely responses tremendously.

Museum Donations

A number of research items have been added to the collection at the Smyrna Museum since our last issue of Lives and Times and we appreciate these very much.

There is one "batch" of materials that we mention especially because of their value in researching family genealogy. Through the Smyrna Library, we have obtained 33 issues of the Georgia Genealogical Society Quarterly Publications. They date from the fall of 1971 through the Winter of 2004.

In addition, there are 10 issues of the Family Puzzlers publications dating from December 20, 1997 to June, 1999.

Both these publications are extremely helpful for those doing Georgia research on their families.

These publications were donated by Frank Parker Hudson, who is an author of a number of genealogy books including a "reconstructed" first United States Federal Census conducted in Georgia in 1790. (these records were destroyed in a Washington, DC fire in 1812) The names for the "census" were taken from court and tax records, and other available publications and documents from the counties which comprised the state of Georgia in 1790. We are running a copy of Frank P. Hudson's 5 generation ancestral chart in this issue of Lives and Times also.

These, along with hundreds of others are available in the researcher room at the Museum.

Donations (Continued) Another donation of note is the one from Don and Pat Cheek. It is a collection of 132 pages of essays from students at Campbell High School. It has an index of the names of the students who wrote the essays by page number, but the essays themselves do not have the names of the author on them. Some of them are quite interesting and one is reproduced in this issue of Lives and Times.

Les Curtis Hemby made a donation of almost 20 pages of photos from the Oakdale Community by way of email. The photos were downloaded and printed out by Harold Smith on photo paper and are available for viewing at the museum. Mr. Hemby now lives in Panama City but was a resident of Cobb for 45 years.

Mrs. Betty Abernathy added to our collection of Fitzhugh Lee School. She donated the 1950 Year Book/Scrap Book of her late sister Evelyn King who was a student there.

Randall Schmerl donated a medallion (similar to a military dog-tag) that was found near the RR. It was identified as being from The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen from the late 1800's.

If you have vintage photos of Smyrna families, structures, business, etc. that you may be able to email to us, please upload them to SmitHarold@aol.com. We'll be glad to print them out on this end.

Taylor/Brawner House Foundation Update

If you haven't been by the Taylor/Brawner House lately, you should stop by for a visit to see what has been accomplished: The old roof has been torn off and replaced with a new metal roof - probably like the one that was on it when it was first constructed back in the 1880's.

The front porch was completely removed and rebuilt and within the next few months the exterior of the house will be completely "rehabilitated."

The water damaged back porch has been completely removed and plans for reconstructing it to the specifications of a Preservation architect are underway. Work will begin soon.

The Board of Directors, headed by Chairman Lillie Wood has been meeting monthly and general meetings have also been held to keep the membership up to date on what's happening.

Another fund raising concert by Song writer - singer - musician Pat Terry and two of his Nashville song writer and musician buddies will be held in January 2007 at the King Springs Baptist Church.

Foundation Vice President of Finance and Treasurer, Mike Terry, reports a total of $161,916.00 has been raised through grants, memberships, and a variety of donations. That figure does not include "in kind" donations of materials and labor.

Matching grants from the Smyrna based, Raymond Cash Foundation has

Taylor/Brawner continued brought in $50,000 and the Cobb County government has provided another $25,000.

A website for the Foundation will be up and running shortly which will detail progress on the house with photos and text. Ed Whittington is in charge of this.

Volunteers are needed for a variety of jobs. Membership forms are available at the Museum.

In the meantime, the City of Smyrna continues it's restoration/rehabilitation of the original historic 1910 Brawner Hospital building which, along with the Taylor/Brawner House and some fountains, a gazebo, walkways, a small amphitheater, and a children's play area will make up a new city park.

The Taylor/Brawner Foundation has recommended the City of Smyrna name the new facility Taylor/Brawner Park.

The city is using a portion of a recently passed $20 million dollar Parks and Recreation General Obligation Bond referendum, for its work on the hospital building which is located on the 13 acre tract.

Maloney's Spring Cemetery

A recent visitor to the museum, Robin Payne, was doing family research and in a later email, shared this information with us. "I found where my great grandfather and his baby brother were, along with other members of the family. They were not named but their plots were found in Maloney's Spring Cemetery without markers.

On page 368 of the Cobb County Cemetery Book Volume I, published by the Northeast Cobb Genealogical Society in 1984, ID number 17004 showed this to be a baby's grave. I believe that is J. R. Stephens born January 22, 1881 and died the same day. He was a twin to Joel Pink Stephens.

ID 17005 plot next to the other one was my great grandfather, Henry Carden Stephens, born April 10, 1868, married Aldora Spear who is buried in Smyrna Memorial, and died March 27, 1927."

Robin said there are three more unmarked adult graves in the plot where Susan A. and William C. Stephens are buried.

This kind of information is very helpful in compiling and keeping cemetery records for the city and county because so many of the tombstones have been stolen and vandalized, and in some instances, the markers were made of wood and simply rotted away and left an unknown grave.

If you know for sure that any of your ancestors are buried without a marker in a particular cemetery please let us know about them.

Visiting The Past Researched by Norma McHann

120 Years Ago

Smyrna: Sept. 30, 1886: Mr. James Mable was married to Miss Emma Quinn, of Augusta, on 23rd inst. He and his bride came up to Mableton on the 24th where a number of friends and relatives met them in a "social" and a good dinner. Mr. Mable is now, we are sorry to learn, is sick with malaria fever which he contracted in the swamps of the Santee River, where he has been railroad building.

Mr. "Lump" Daniel, our efficient tax receiver, has improved his pretty country home on the Concord road.

The Baptist immersed six new members Sunday. They are rapidly building up a strong congregation in Smyrna.

Smyrna: Oct. 21, 1886: Mr. Tobe Medlin is repairing the Presbyterian church. A vestibule, belfry and other improvements are to be made.

Mr. Raymond Simpson, near Bethel, has a dog two years old that has caught 35 squirrels--3 weeks before last and nine rabbits the same week.

100 Years Ago

Smyrna: Sept. 6, 1906: The reunion of the scholars who attended the old Smyrna Academy way back in 1854 took place in the grove behind the Methodist Church last Tuesday. At a Roll Call of these ancient School Children, some 25 answered to their names. The day was pleasantly spent in reminiscences of school days as they had and enjoyed them. Hon.

Jas. L. Mayson of Atlanta, delivered the address of the occasion in his usual happy and charming manner. One feature of the reunion was the reception of a letter addressed one of the scholars in attendance, from the sweetheart of those good old days of "long long ago." This young fellow as a persistent lover and became the shadow of his lady love, so much so that the boys and girls nicknamed the young lady, "Joe" and it is said she even now answers to the magic name of "Joe." The reunion was a great success and those old boys and girls of 1854, and thereabouts, seemed just enjoying a happy moment of recess, from the arduous studies of every day life in the great school of experience.

Mr. Bob Dunton is building an awning in front of his store and the telephone exchange.

The many friends of Miss Lorena, the dear little daughter of Dr. W. T. Pace, will regret to learn that she is quite sick with fever.

Olive Springs: Sept. 13, 1906: The Concord singing convention met here Saturday week. Several classes were represented with a full delegation. No better music has ever been heard. Officers elected for next year were J. A. Lewis, president; W. N. Edwards, vice-president and F. B. Barber, secretary.

Smyrna: Sept. 13, 1906: The Belmont Farms people have installed a milking machine in their dairy department. It is a wonderful yet simple device by which one man can milk eight cows at the same time. It is said to be giving entire satisfaction.

Capt. John T. Pace is getting his ginnery apparatus in good shape for this year's crop of Smyrna: Sept. 13, 1906 (continued) cotton. He says there will not be as much cotton to gin this year as we had last, nor does he think it will be as good staple, but the prospects are that we will get more money for it.

Mr. J. Walker Fuller, one of our prominent merchants, visited the "Old Homestead" at Roswell, last Sunday. it's a good thing to go back occasionally, notwithstanding "old home is not what it used to be."

Smyrna: Sept. 20, 1906: Dr. W. T. Pace sold his three room house on Terrell Ave. to a Mr. Wood, of Villa Rica, who will move to Smyrna in the next few days.

We came very near having a blacksmith shop in Smyrna last week, but like nearly everything else, opposition developed and an injunction was had against it and the enterprise will likely fall through.

Mr. Cliff Fowler has about completed his hennery and has about as pretty a chicken farm as you find anywhere in a days journey.

Work begins on the school house Monday. A large force of hands are employed to take the roof off and rush the work through.

Smyrna: Sept. 27, 1906: Mr. Jeff Crow had his foot cut off above the ankle by a mowing machine last Monday afternoon week.

Next Saturday and Sunday will be devoted to the Orphans' Home by our people. Saturday's day's work will be given them, and Sunday the Sabbath schools have arranged an interesting program, and expect a large congregation and generous contribution for the cause.

Smyrna: Oct. 11, 1906: The residence of Mr. R.N. Hughes caught fire last Monday morning but fortunately the flames were extinguished before any serious damage was done.

The remains of Mrs. M. L. Petty, who died in Atlanta Friday morning were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place Saturday noon. She is survived by her husband, M. L. Petty and three daughters aged 8, 12 and 16.

Smyrna: Oct. 18, 1906: Belmont Farms took all the prizes and ribbons at the Macon Fair.

The Baptist church has organized an orchestra of local talent, consisting of several instruments and is preparing to have fine music at that church during services. The orchestra is under the able and efficient management of Prof. Clarence Burk.

Mr. Cliff Fowler has just completed an elegant and up-to-date Chicken Hotel on his farm and will engage more extensively in the poultry business than ever. Mr. Fowler is getting to be quite a chicken expert.

Mr. Mat Simpson has gone to Cartersville and will visit Dalton before returning home; and there-by hangs a tale. Mr. Simpson has not been away from home or eaten a meal from home in 33 years, and his neighbors are horrified that he should break such a record at this date.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mason last Wednesday, a fine baby girl.

Olive Springs: Oct. 25, 1906: The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Legg are congratulating them on the arrival of a fine boy at their home.

90 Years Ago

Olive Springs: Sept. 15, 1916: Mrs. John S. Wilson gave a quilting party on Tuesday to matrons and at night about fifty young boys and girls were invited in and after several games suitable for the occasion ice cream and cake were served.

Mr. L. Y. Rogers has the contract to clean off

Olive Springs: Sept. 15, 1916 Continued: Maloney Springs cemetery, those being appointed on the committee to see after this work are as follows: Messrs J. P. York, G. L. Shaw, J. W. Barber, J. E. White and G. E. Crow.

Olive Springs: Sept. 29, 1916: Mr. T. F. Knox and Mr. E.M. Daniell are very busy making syrup, if you want to enjoy some good home made syrup just call on these gentlemen.

On Saturday night near Fair Oaks the buggy of Mr. S. A. White and Mr. J. H. Sanders ran into each other, crushing the buggies and only slightly injuring them. The horses were frightened and could not be controlled by the drivers.

Nickajack: Oct. 6, 1916: The month of October with the cool winds, the glorious sunshine and golden rods, make us feel that nature has something more than real summertime in the future for us.

The friends of little Herbert and Howard Moss will be glad to know they are convalescing after several weeks illness of Typhoid fever, under the skillful treatment of Dr. W. T. Pace.

Regular preaching at Mt. Harmony Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Byers is preaching some able sermons.

Smyrna: Oct. 6, 1916: Miss Alta Hamby celebrated her 16th birthday at her home near Smyrna Friday evening with a lawn party. When the big pink cake with 16 candles was cut, Miss Leila Fowler found the dime, Mr. Green, of Atlanta, the ring and Roy Fowler the thimble.

Olive Springs: Oct. 6, 1916 Mr. T. F. Knox and two sons, Messrs. W. H. and J. H. accompanied by their uncle, Mr. Geo. Seals, of Atlanta, motored to Macon Tuesday to attend the State Democratic convention.

Mr. A. A. Daniell has moved to Smyrna where he will open up a nice line of groceries. Mr.

Wilbur Moore will take Mr. Daniell's store near Jonesville crossing, which he bought recently of Mr. Daniell.

GROWING OLD

Growing old is happening to every person, to every thing, every minute. Time leaves signs along the pathway to warn you of its passing. Getting old is not wanting to stay up just fifteen extra minutes.

Getting old is realizing you are using the text books that the big kids used to carry. Getting old is listening to the theme song from Summer of '42 and talking about the good old days. Getting old is having some little kid in the grocery store call you ma'am. Getting old is the time when you stop asking everyone what his favorite color is. Getting old is wanting to take a bath. Getting old is wishing you still had nap time after lunch. Getting old is the time when you stop looking at your senior ring every five minutes to make sure it is still there. Getting old is sleeping late during a snowstorm instead of building a snowman. Getting old is when you have heard every elephant joke three times and seen every Tarzan movie at least twice. Getting old is to walk in the dark alone and not think about Dracula. Getting old is when Mr. Ash can remember your name. Getting old is changing the channel to the news while Gilligan's Island is still on. Getting old is no longer wanting to call every collie you see "Lassie". Getting old is when you eat cereal and don't send off for the secret decoder ring. Guilty of these things?

You must be getting old.
